

THE CORD

The Cord has been proud to serve WLU and the Waterloo community for the past 90 years as Laurier's official campus newspaper.

The publication prints and distributes 2,500 copies of each issue, covering timely news events, local arts, WLU athletics and student life from the unique perspective of students. Distributed to locations on campus and across Waterloo Region, The Cord continues to grow, innovate and improve to meet the needs of its diverse readership.

WEB ADVERTISING OPTIONS

Content published online by The Cord reaches roughly 15,000 users each month, with some fluctuation in the spring and summer when students are not enrolled in full time studies.

On average, up to 70% of these users are acquired organically via search engine. More than 1700 users a month are travelling directly to our website, most of which are students, faculty or the parents of students at Wilfrid Laurier University.
